Dr. Larry Stone Participates in Temple Dental School's Mentoring for Life Program

(June 2017) – Dr. Larry Stone, a dentist with a family and cosmetic dental practice in Doylestown, offers his services as a mentor to dental students in Temple Dental School's "Mentoring for Life" Program. This program matches Temple University Dental School alumni with students interested in a mentor to guide them throughout their dental career. Dr. Stone met with his group of students several times during the school year to discuss general topics related to dentistry and career options in the field and will continue to be available to the students as they pursue their careers beyond dental school

At the close of this school year, Dr. Stone held a get together for his group at Sweet Lucy's BBQ. Several of his group were graduating and moving on to the next phase of their career. Pictured here (left to right) are: Matt Dudek who graduates in 2019, Dr. Catherine Zhao who graduated in 2017 and will continue her studies in the Advanced Education General Dentistry (AEGD) program at Temple Dental School, Dr. Laurence Stone, Dr. Avi Batra who graduated in 2017 and will enter private practice in Nashville, TN, and Dr.

Renee Ann Lawton who also graduated in 2017 and is going to Arizona to join a private practice.

"Working with these students is a wonderful opportunity for all of us," remarks Dr. Stone. "The students have the opportunity to learn about the practice of dentistry from a practitioner's point of view and I get the chance to see the field through their eyes and better understand how the profession is changing."
